So what are the benefits of choosing Stirling Solutions?

Stirling Solutions have become a leading supplier specialising in software solutions for the road haulage industry with an enviable reputation for providing after sales support to its client base of over seven hundred customers. Maintenance and support on all hardware and software supplied has always been considered as the integral aspect of our business process.

Stirling Solutions software is fully Windows based, networkable and constantly progressing to meet all our customers requirements. We have developed a full suite of software solutions that are specifically constructed to cover both automated and manual transport hauliers. Our software is modular, flexible and can be implemented rapidly. We offer a variety of stand alone modules which when integrated, form the basis of our comprehensive integrated transport solution, which can be installed in either single user, multi-user or networked formats with the facility to link remote sites.

We're confident that after a short presentation, you'll see how your organisation would benefit from an increased freedom of control over your fleets' movements, enabling greater efficiency and productivity as well as improved customer service.

Give us a call today and find out why more transport hauliers like yourselves see us as their solution.
